Well it did not take long to start this all over again. Today the operator of the blue barrel truck once again left my blue barrel in the middle of the street! Taken at 7:00 PM May 7, 2020.

Note the position as the barrel was originally to the left of the black barrel in line with the brick where the driveway meets the street.

I had to have someone come and get them since I (once again as stated) on a crane and suffering from a heart attack!

So where we are again showing the sanitation folks don't give a F for anybody, even though the tuck is capable of retuning the barrel from which it came!
